PREFACE.

THE rapid extension of our business, more especially since removal to our present commodious and more suitable premises, has rendered it imperatively necessary to issue a Catalogue of Designs for the convenience of our largely increasing customers.

We have, accordingly, very great pleasure in placing before our customers, and the general public, Volume I, of the first edition of our Illustrated Catalogue of High-Class Architectural, Sanitary, and General Castings and Wrought Ironwork. The trouble and expense expended upon its preparation will be amply repaid if it meets with their approval, and we have endeavored to render it more clear and intelligible by a liberal use of explanatory notes.

Our new Works, the largest of their kind in this colony, will enable us to continue our efforts to produce Castings and Wrought Ironwork of the high degree of excellence that has always characterised the work turned out by the "Sun" Foundry, and which has been so greatly appreciated in the past.

We take this opportunity of publicly thanking the members of the architectural profession, and our customers generally, for the generous support they have hitherto accorded us.

STEWART & HARLEY.

June, 1897.
